Tegrete Supports Customers with Green Building Strategies and Practices

St. Michael, MN, August 28, 2014 – Tegrete Corporation, a full-service facilities management company, announced today that Nate Megard, a Tegrete Account Executive for 14 years, has attained the distinction of LEED Green Associate by demonstrating the knowledge and understanding of green building practices and principles needed to support the LEED® Green Building Rating System™. LEED certification is recognized across the world as the premier mark of achievement in green building.

LEED, or Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, is a green building certification program that recognizes best-in-class building strategies and practices and is transforming the way people think about how buildings and communities are designed, constructed, maintained and operated across the globe.

Nate achieved the LEED Professional Credential through education, training and experience and is a leader in the field and an active participant in the green building movement.

“Tegrete has extensive knowledge of the most current green building principles and practices,” said David Carlson, Tegrete president. “We are committed to delivering our customers environmentally-sound cleaning products, a focus on energy efficiency and minimizing the impact on the environment.
